Overview: In the nerve center of the town of Coín is this town house to reform almost completely. It is located with access to two of the best known streets of this city, Albaicín street and Los Morales street. It has a facade of 4.50 meters wide and 18 meters long. We find an old building with a living room, and a bedroom on the ground floor and three bedrooms on the upper floor. In a long patio we find the kitchen, the bathroom, and various rooms of the barn. This old construction has multiple possibilities for the construction of a building with several dwellings, one or two independent houses with a swimming pool, etc. Ideal for investment. GP1
