Both houses are equipped with air conditioning and central heating in all rooms, which makes them a comfortable place to stay in both summer and winter. The pool of the main house can be heated by solar energy. About 60% of the plot is a fruit orchard with oranges, tangerines, figs, grapes, peaches and many other kinds of fruit. The finca is rurally situated near the village of Alhaurin de la Torre and close to the main roads to Malaga, Sevilla, Granada and Cordoba. Privacy in subtropical surroundings Subtropical flowers and various fruit trees shield both houses from prying eyes. They are built on a gently sloping hill so that the patio and front garden offer a magnificent view on the orchard and valley. The garden and orchard cover an area of almost 10.000m2, thus ensuring complete privacy. There is plenty of grass around both houses. The main house The main house is a comfortable bungalow of 135m2, including a roofed terrace of 26m2. It is cosy, friendly and typically Spanish in style. It has been built in 1990 by Spaniards and has been used as a holiday home since 2001. The house has a lot of luxuries like a heated pool, a big outside jacuzzi for up to 10 people, Internet, DVD, satellite TV, air conditioning in all rooms and central heating. There are three double bedrooms, two bathrooms (one with bath), living with fireplace and a fully- equipped kitchen with microwave, freezer, dishwasher and washing machine. The guest house The guest house is a bungalow for 2-4 people, constructed in 2003. It lies behind the main house at the other side of the private access road. Also here is full privacy and perfectly suitable to rent as an independent bungalow. The style is comfortable and modern with Spanish details. There is a spacious living, an open-plan kitchen, a double bedroom with built-in closets, direct access to its own pool and a bathroom with shower. Just like villa the main house, the guest house has air conditioning and central heating in all rooms. Two private swimming pools Both houses have their own pool. So you can pick the one you like best! The pool of the main house (9x5m) lies between palm trees and fruit trees in a large garden with lots of grass. It can be heated by solar energy. Close to the pool of the mail house there is a large jacuzzi of 4x2m. The pool of the guest house (6x6m) lies in the garden, which is completely walled-in. From the raised patio you have a lovely view over the pool, the orchard and the sloping hills in the distance. In the evening both pools and gardens can be illuminated. During the sultry summer evenings there is nothing greater than having a swim in an illuminated pool!
