Vue d'ensemble:This plot is located at the entrance of Antequera, close to el Polígono de la Azucarera and close to the main hospital. At the moment the plot has a building of 503m2 built and the total size of the plot is 1807. As per the municipality you could build from a hotel, to a school, hospital or a museum. The plot is located in a very strategic place surrounded by hostels, the company Lumon will be very close, Mercadona´s distribution center is also nearby as well as the new Puerto Seco which will bring a lot of movement in the area. We also need to keep in mind Antequera Logística, which is an initiative promoted by the City Council that will make this city become the main strategic and distribution node in southern Europe. All this by adding public and private efforts to achieve the same goal: that the municipality consolidates itself as the great axis of articulation of companies and freight transport, which will be transformed into progress, well-being and a guarantee of the future for Antequera and Andalusia. Do not miss this opportunity and lets arrange a viewing!
